Indiana oil shales yield 12 gallons of oil per ton. Experts estimate there is enough oil to last this country 100 years, at the present rate of consumption, in the oil shales of Indiana alone.

NOAH W. COOPER
For U. S. Senator

In Democratic Primary Aug. 3rd

With his Gourd of Righteousness given by the ladies of Coffee County; begging your prayers and votes to help America quit drinking Satan's broth, and to drink anew with the Gourd of Righteousness from God's healing fountains of eternal truth.

I favor emancipating America from the deadly demons of militarism, greed and Sabbath breaking. They ruined Israel and Europe and now endanger America.

Let us "GET RIGHT WITH GOD," have a Secretary of Peace; teach peace; follow God's Golden Rule and keep His Sabbath, as Henry Ford has so well done; as our homes, churches, workers and W. C. T. U. are so rightly asking. Thus secure high morals, low taxes.

My campaign expenses are limited to $2,000, with full publicity; no dollar for paying other poll taxes, nor election day boosters, nor hauling voters.

TURN ON THE LIGHT. Down with Newberryism. Let manhood rule. I sought joint speakings.

Clip this out. Vote for Cooper. Hear him speak. See him drink from his Gourd of Righteousness.

Mr. Cooper will speak in Crossville Tuesday night, July 11, probably at 8:00 o'clock.

PEACE AND SAFETY.—Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.—Isaiah 26:3.

GOVERNMENT HUNTER KILLS BIGGEST ARIZONA GRIZZLY.

The biggest and most notorious grizzly bear in Arizona was killed during the first week of June by a Government hunter employed by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, after considerable time and effort had been spent in trying to capture him.

The skin and skull of the bear were turned over to the predatory-animal inspector for the district, who placed them on exhibit for a few days in a prominent store in Phoenix, Ariz., and then sent them on to Washington. This bear is positively a grizzly, although its body was nearly black and its nose and flanks were cinnamon color. It weighed from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds and its skin measured 8 feet 3 inches from tip to tip. When standing on its hind legs the bear could have stretched up a distance of 8 feet. The skull is 16½ inches long.

The grizzly's persistent preying on live stock cost cattle owners at least $25,000, according to conservative estimates. One man, however, upon the range the bear lived most of the time expressed the belief that the bear had eaten fully $75,000 worth of his cattle. The Biological Survey inspector reported that the bear killed 12 head of cattle within one week, among them a pure-bred Hereford bull weighing 1,800 pounds. Cows and young calves, however, were the bear's favorite food. He would eat the udder of a cow or the stomach of a calf and then kill another animal. He never went back to the carcass a second time.—U. S. Department of Agriculture.

BRIDGE OVER GRAND CANYON

Kaibab Plateau and Forest Will Be Opened to Tourists Some Time This Summer.

The suspension bridge over the Colorado river in the Grand canyon is practically completed. Late this summer it will be possible to ride from El Tovar on the south rim of the stupendous chasm, to the Kaibab plateau, on the north rim.

The bridging of the Granite gorge of the Colorado opens up a new wonderland in the Grand Canyon National park. From the Kaibab plateau, which averages 1,000 feet above the better known south rim of the canyon, new and amazing panoramas are presented.

The completed bridge will be 420 feet along the roadway, with a span of 500 feet from center to center of the bearings. The two main steel cables are placed about ten feet apart and anchored to the canyon walls 80 feet above the floor level by means of sections of railroad iron set in the rock with concrete.

Hanging galvanized steel cables, clamped to the main lines above, carry the wood floor of the bridge. A seven-foot wire meshing is strung along the sides as a protection for animals and pedestrians.

The bridge is 60 feet above the river in normal flow and 13 feet above the highest known water mark in June floods. This is the only bridging of the Colorado above Needles, Cal., 360 miles to the south by river curve, as you "step it off" on the map.—Harriet Chalmers Adams in National Geographic Magazine.

WILL BUILD "SACRED WAY"

France's Idea for Memorial to the Fallen Soldiers of All Nations Is Beautiful.

The French have a happy instinct of doing the right thing where sentiment is concerned; they have a sense of rightness in these things where we sometimes blunder. Wherever one goes in England there may be seen memorials of the Boer war that leave much to be desired; perhaps that is why the memorials of the great war are so much better. And about the cenotaph has grown up, become established, a custom that will live; it is rare to see a man pass that impressive monument in Whitehall without raising his hat in token of respect.

The members of the French and foreign press met recently at the mayoral offices of the Bar le Duc for the purpose of creating a committee of the allied press in connection with the proposal to erect, in Bar le Duc, the starting point of the "Sacred Way," an arc de triomphe in memory of the obscure soldiers of all nations and races who died in the defense of right and liberty. The "Sacred Way" is a long and picturesque route, starting at Bar le Duc and ending at Verdun. This way is regarded as the route that gave victory, the only one which remained free and by which the Verdun front was kept supplied with food, guns and munitions.

Record Air Flight.

The longest commercial passenger flight in Canada was accomplished recently when an airplane with pilot, passenger, and mechanic, flew from Winnipeg, Man., to The Pas, Sask., a distance of 478 miles. The flying time for the trip was six hours twelve minutes, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The long flight was made without previous arrangements having been made for landing grounds, gasoline, etc. The landing at Hudson Bay Junction had to be made in a "muskeg" or swamp, there being no other place, and great difficulty was experienced in "taking off." This is the first machine to fly north of 53 degrees latitude in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Ontario. On its arrival at The Pas, tremendous excitement ensued, and Indians from afar came by the score to view the "Thunder Bird," as one old Cree Indian appropriately named the machine.

New Building Material.

An all-mineral substitute for wood, composed of Portland cement, sand and asbestos fiber, has been found to serve excellently as a base for walls, floors, etc., as, being cellular in structure, it takes nails easily and holds them firmly. The new material, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, has the advantages over wood of being fire and warpproof. This latter quality makes it especially suitable for use as a subflooring when composition floors are used, as cracking of the latter is said to be eliminated. As it has the property of holding nails well, interior wood trimming and shingles may be nailed directly to the new base material. It is also said to possess good insulating qualities.

Not Surprising.

There was recently erected in a western town an orthopedic hospital, the architectural features of which became the subject of discussion between two members of a club, the one a physician and the other an architect.

"What do you think of it as a building?" asked the medico.

The architect smiled. "Externally," he observed, "the design is modern, and internally the treatment is somewhat severe, as is usual in a hospital."

Alert Calculation.

"How do you figure that this small fat is worth as much as the larger one?"

"It saves you money. You don't have to buy so much furniture."

PALACE CAR OF "RAILLESS"

Buffalo Man's Design for a Touring Trailer Is Elaborate and Double-Decked.

The independent trailer, or the completely self-contained traveling home, truck chassis—which asks Popular Mechanics Magazine, and continues: This question is agitating the minds of hundreds of motorists who have felt the lures of spring and the open road leading away into the mysteries of tomorrow. Elaborate outfits, built directly on the chassis, there are many, but it has remained for a citizen of Buffalo, N. Y., to design and build a touring trailer which is literally a palace car of the highways. A double-decking arrangement provides ample space for four full-size single berths—not bunks—each with its comfortable specially made tent which, fastening to the side of the main body, extends outward several feet, forming another large room. A number of electric lamps light the spacious outfit inside and out, and are so connected that the outside lights may be turned on by switches at the head of each berth. A locker, extending across the front of the body, contains a 30-gallon water tank, provision bins, refrigerator, one kerosene and two wood-burning stoves, axes, shovels and a bicycle. Water is heated in small quantities and stored in a smaller tank in the lavatory. Folding chairs, tables, cots, suitcases and tent stow away in a generous space under the body floor. Despite the spaciousness of the outfit it is no longer or wider than the average touring car.

AS MISS ALICE EXPLAINED IT

Oklahoma Congresswoman Cited Indian Custom Concerning Proper Order of Precedence.

Not long ago the congressional delegation from Oklahoma went to pay its respects to President Harding, the Philadelphia Ledger states.

When it entered the chief executive's office the men came first and Miss Alice Robertson, the congresswoman, brought up the rear.

"This is a fine how-do-you-do," said Mr. Harding. "What's the idea of all you men preceding your distinguished woman associate?"

But Miss Robertson came to the rescue with her explanation. The men went first in submission to her will, she said. It was a custom peculiar to Oklahoma, a holdover from the old Indian days. When Indian men and women entered any building the men went first and the women followed. It was not that the men were given precedence. Quite the contrary. The Indian woman furnished the will that guided the movements of such parties. When cattle are driven down the road by cowboys, they go first, not as a matter of precedence, but because of a stronger will behind which impels them.

Protecting National Forests.

Lightning often strikes more than once—even frequently—in the same place or vicinity and experts of the United States Agricultural department are considering the possibility of mapping the lightning zones in the national forests, and for such zones providing fire lines, regulating grazing, and cleaning out of dead trees with fire-protective measures. It is believed that the mapping would show these zones closely related to certain types of topography and more or less localized sections of many forests. The importance of the matter is shown by the fact that lightning causes 30 per cent of the national forest fires, and in the very unusual season of 1920 set over half of the 5,078 fires.

Got It Straight.

Israel Zangwill occasionally likes to slip among the crowd so that he can find out what they are thinking about his work, and he has never forgotten an occasion on a certain evening when he did so.

It was on the first night of one of his earlier plays. Filled with all a young author's anxiety, he ventured into the gallery in the hope of hearing some compliments. But there was "nothing doing," so he asked one man straight out what he thought of the production.

"Well, guv'nor," replied the man, "the leading actor ain't bad!"

"Ah, yes."

"And the leading lady, she'll do."

"Yes, yes."

"But, guv'nor, what a play!"
